

EatsPlace, established in 2012, is a farm and food certified Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI). We are a social impact investor providing capital and technical assistance for businesses to start and grow. We help entrepreneurs refine their business models, build sales, and prepare for expansion. We focus on underserved groups who have traditionally been denied access to capital so that they can invest in their families, their community, and the environment.

EatsPlace's Commercial Kitchen

As a Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI) and community food hub, EatsPlace facilitates food-based, community entrepreneurship for a robust economy to increase food security and health in our neighborhoods.

EatsPlace's innovative approach combines an incubator kitchen with a working restaurant lab. In addition to kitchen rentals and restaurant pop-ups at our location, we also offer food facility design and operations services.

Our fully-licensed commercial kitchen is available to our members and to those who wish to rent it on an hourly basis. As a user of our commercial kitchen, you will have access to:

- Gas range
- Gas charbroiler grill
- Deep fryer
- Gas oven
- Electric convection oven
- Large floor mixer
- Tabletop mixer
- Food processor
- Blender
- Dishwasher
- Dry, cold and freezer storage
